

The Rutgers Latino Studies Research Initiative and the Henry Rutgers Term Chair in Latino and Caribbean Studies
Invites you to join us for a

Latino/a History Workshop

9:00-10:00 AM	Breakfast
10:00-11:30 AM	Paper discussion Delia Fernandez , Assistant Professor, Dept. of History, Michigan State University Cecilia Marquez , Assistant Professor, Dept. of Social and Cultural Analysis, NYU
11:30-1:00 PM	Paper discussion Alyssa Ribeiro , Assistant Professor, Dept. of History, Allegheny College Mauricio Castro , Lecturer, Dept. of History, Purdue University
1:00-2:15 PM	Lunch
2:30-4:00 PM	Paper discussion Lilia Fernandez , Henry Rutgers Term Chair and Associate Professor, Latino and Caribbean Studies and History, Rutgers New Brunswick Aldo Lauria Santiago , Professor, Latino and Caribbean Studies and History, Rutgers New Brunswick
4:00-5:30 PM	Roundtable on recent & forthcoming books Llana Barber , Assistant Professor, Dept. of History, SUNY Old Westbury, author of Latino City: Immigration and Urban Crisis in Lawrence, Massachusetts, 1945–2000 (UNC Press, 2017) Nancy Mirabal , Associate Professor and Director of U.S. Latino/a Studies Program, Dept. of American Studies, University of Maryland, author of Suspect Freedoms: The Racial and Sexual Politics of Cubanidad in New York, 1823-1957 (NYU Press, 2017) Eduardo Contreras , Assistant Professor, Dept. of History, Hunter College, author of Latinos in the Liberal City: From San Francisco's Big Strike to Gay Liberation (UPenn Press, forthcoming)
5:30-6:30 PM	Wrap-up discussion

Friday, May 12, 2017

The Rutgers Inn

178 Ryders Lane
New Brunswick, NJ

To RSVP, for more information, or to receive papers to be circulated in advance, please contact Professor Lilia Fernandez, lilia.fernandez@rutgers.edu.