

Rutgers Latino Studies Research Symposium

Panel 1 (10:15—11:30)

- Yalidy Matos, Adiós a 'pie seco, pie mojado': Changing US Immigration Policy Toward Cubans
- Melanie Plasencia, "No Tengo Dinero, Pero Tengo Mucha Gente": A Qualitative Exploration of How Older Latino Immigrants Age in an Ethnic Enclave
- Natalie Saldariaga, The American Immigrants
- Ulla Berg, Making the Road (Back): Deportation, Personhood, and the Right to Mobility Across the Americas

Panel 2 (11:45—1:00)

- Carlos U. Decena, Indecent Conocimientos: A Queer of Color Peregrinaje
- Kathleen Lopez, The Rutgers Latino and Caribbean Community Memory Project
- Jason Cortes, El Muerto Parao' (Debt, Haunting, Disposability)
- Lilia Fernandez, A Black Judge, Two Mexican Defendants, and White Backlash: The Erasure of Latinos in Criminal Justice History

Breakfast & Lunch Provided

Friday

March 2, 2018

10AM-2PM

411 College Ave Student
Center

The Rutgers Latino Studies
Research Initiative

For more information please contact:

Lilia Fernandez lf393@lcs.rutgers.edu or Aldo Lauria Santiago alauria@lcs.rutgers.edu